*"The kind of fellow who doesn't shirk,
And is always ready to do his work"*

Here is a president from whom no one would withhold a third term, if it were possible. Unfortunately there is no third term, but his position will be a permanent honor with no successor needed. Squeak is a good leader, gets better than average marks, and is a man with ideas, which is one of the essential qualities of a leader. Track 3; Dramatic Club 4; Band, Orchestra 2, 3, 4.

Lois Stevenson

*"Full of pep, full of fun,
A laugh and smile for everyone"*

Charles William Tambeau*"He is a good man who is a man of goods"*

Although Charles is seldom heard from around school he certainly cannot be overlooked. His witty personality and friendly disposition will leave a lasting impression on all who knew him. Dorothy has blonde hair, a winning smile and a genial disposition. Believe it or not, here is a girl who cares not about her diet, but rather admits her hobby is eating. She offsets this, however, by hiking. On any bright, sunny day, you might find her climbing some lofty hill or nearby mountain. In future years you'll probably find her up in the North Woods for her ambitions are to be a trapper and a successful housewife.

Ferne Joan Tapply*"In every gesture dignity"*

One of our twinkling-eyed brunettes is Ferne. Her constant spick and span appearance, and her stiff, starched collars add to her attractiveness. Beatrice is one of our best natured seniors. She always has a smile and a greeting for everyone and consequently has many friends. In her leisure time she skates (on both wheels and blades) and experiments with photography. She wants to become a dietitian — a smile with every menu is her motto.

Doris Mae Thibodeau*"Eyes like diamonds in a canopy of black"*

Wherever you find dancing there you will find Doris, for she has the reputation of being the jitterbug of the class. She is also a good basketball and hockey player. Evelyn Ward*"To lofty heights her thoughts do soar"*

Evie's expressive eyes show her every mood. They can be gay, sad, or serious, whatever the occasion may call for. Her sweet temperament is always in harmony with everybody and anything about her. Maybe this accounts for her superb acting ability. She justly deserved her award at the Drama Festival. However great this ability may be, it little surpasses her talent for writing. Whatever course she may follow in future years, we expect to hear great things from her. Dramatic Club 2, 3, 4; "Red and Grey" 3, 4; Basketball 2, 3.

Paul Vincent Walsh*"Good humor is the main spring of his energy"*

Betty Clara Woods*"Of quiet and studious aspect is she"*

Betty's blue eyes, quick, warm smile, and low pleasant voice make her a particularly pleasant person to meet. "JACOB COMES HOME"

By WILLIAM KOZLENKO

The following seniors took part in the competitive one-act play presented at the annual open meeting of the dramatic club in December:

Lois Stevenson
Evelyn Ward
Eileen Hart

Robert Legere
Quintino Rollo
Mackay Brown

This marks the second year the 1941 cast won the award at the open meeting. In 1940, as juniors, a competent cast won the dramatic club silver loving cup for a skillful performance of the comedy, "Quiet Please." Quintino Rollo and Lois Stevenson of this year's cast appeared also in the junior play.

For his open meeting performance as Rudolph in "Jacob Comes Home," Quintino Rollo, our dramatic club president, was given special mention for his acting.

The 1941 cast of "Jacob Comes Home," the deeply moving anti-Nazi play, repeated the performance at the 1941 Drama Festival for Massachusetts Secondary Schools, held in the Fitchburg high school auditorium on March 29. In competition with eleven other Massachusetts high schools, the Fitchburg cast won third place. Moreover, Evelyn Ward was given a certificate for excellence in acting for her portrayal of Magda. Evelyn was the only girl to be so honored.

Jokes

Policeman: "How did you knock this man down, Ma'am?"

A. Schliefer: "I didn't knock him down. I stopped my car to let him across, and he must have fainted."

Betty Woods: "What is this funny key on your typewriter? Mine doesn't have one like it."

M. Rothman: "Oh, that's my own invention. When I can't spell a word, I just use that key. It makes a blur that could be any letter."

Jerry Conley, who had gotten no bites, entered the fish market.

Jerry: "Joe, stand over there and toss me five of your biggest trout, will you?"

Clerk: "Yes, sir, but why toss them?"

Jerry: "I want to tell my family that I caught them."

Betty Goss: "Sure, I'll come with you. Just wait till I change these traffic-cop shoes of mine."

Dana Goodwin: "Traffic-cop? Why do you call them that?"

Betty: "Because everything's all right while I keep going, but if I park anywhere too long, they pinch me."

Lois Stevenson: "I don't understand it. Dr. Smith absolutely refuses to prescribe for me. He started by saying that in my condition I ought to take a daily walk on an empty stomach and then—"

Quintino Rollo: "And then what? What did you say?"

Lois: "Why, I simply asked, 'Whose?'"

Miss Dunn: "Why, this is the same story I turned down last week."

Arthur Willard: "I know, I just thought I'd give you one more chance."

Robert Mattia: "Are you the barber who cut my hair last time?"

Barber (doubtfully): "I—I'm not sure, Sir, I've only been here six months."

Boss: "How did you happen to oversleep this morning?"

Willy Klier: "There were eight of us in the house, Sir, and the alarm was set for seven."

Dorothy Miller: "Wouldn't you like to be famous enough to get your face on a thousand dollar bill?"

Naomi Rafer: "Not me, I'd just like to be lucky enough to get my hand on one."

Ruth Whiston: "How are you getting along with your writing for the magazine?"
Laura Higgins: "Just holding my own. They send me back as much as I send them."

Mr. Woodbury: "Now, Bob, which month has 28 days?"
Robert Rice (after long pause): "They all have."

Mary Gelep: "I've had my nose broken three times and each time it was in the same place."
Joan Thomas: "I should think you'd learn to keep your nose out of that place."

Miss Nason: "Dorothy, I'm surprised at you. Why did you try to sneak that toast out of Home Economics class?"
Dorothy Goldman: "Please, teacher, I wanted to make some charcoal sketches."

Mr. Baldwin: "What did your boss say when you asked him for a raise?"
John: "He took it like a lamb."
Mr. Baldwin: "Yes, but what did he say?"
John: "Bah."

TIMES HAVE CHANGED

One hundred years ago today,
A wilderness stood here.

A man with powder in his gun
Went forth to hunt a deer.

But now the times have changed somewhat
And are in a different plan,

For a dear with powder on her nose,
Goes forth to hunt a man.

CONSISTENT

He: Shall we waltz?
She: It's all the same to me.
He: So I notice.

TRAPPED

First Golfer: The traps on this course are certainly irritating.
Second Golfer (trying to pull): Yes, they are. Would you mind closing yours?

"The horn on your car must be broken."
"No, it's just indifferent. It doesn't give a hoot!"

Kitty: Whenever I'm down in the dumps, I buy myself a new hat.

Cat: Oh, so that's where you get them.

A peach at his right—

A nut at the wheel—

A turn in the road—

Fruit salad!

Professor: Young man, how many times have I told you to get to class on time?

Student: I don't know, I thought you were keeping score.

OLD LOVE

The other day I chanced to meet
A love of days gone by,
And as I gazed into his face
I vainly wondered why
I once had thought myself in love
With such an oaf as he!
And no doubt that he was thinking
The self-same thing of me.

Crowd of girls: "Shall we wear pumps or saddles tonight, girls?"

Doris Jensen: "I don't know, but Bea Bull ought to wear pumps because she's got water on the knee."

Teacher: "Class, this morning we shall learn that very beautiful song 'Danny Boy.' Now repeat the first line after me. 'Oh Danny Boy the pipes, the pipes are calling thee'."

Little boy in the class: "Teacher, was Danny a plumber?"

When the bats in your belfry do flut,
And your comprenex-vous line is cut,
When there's nobody home in the top of your dome,
Then your head's not a head, it's a nut.
